Note - As a friendly reminder, show days require a very controlled environment for our performers. To minimize distractions and nerves, we ask that all parents and supporters stay in the common audience areas until after both of our units have performed. If you have volunteered to transport props or help us onto the floor, we ask that you refrain from speaking to performers until after the show. It's important that we make this process consistent from show to show and that the performers are focused on the staff, their teammates, and their jobs. Thank you so much for supporting your child and our program! We could not do what we do without your contributions!
